

Legal Document Summarization Report

Extractive and Abstractive Summaries using CUAD Dataset

Contract 1

Extractive Summary

Neither party is granted any express or implied right of authority by the other party to assume or to create any obligation or responsibility on behalf of or in the name of the other party, or to bind the other party in any manner or thing whatsoever. None of the parties hereto nor their associated or affiliated or affiliated companies shall during the term of this Agreement or thereafter disclose any confidential information obtained or acquired by them in connection with the Products and the business of the other, including, without limitation, trade secrets, business techniques, technical information, customer and potential customer lists, marketing data and information, prices, improvements to the Products in various stages of development, processes, or other confidential information relating to the Products or the business of the Distributor, except that either party shall be permitted to disclose (x) all or portions of such confidential information on a strictly need-to-know basis to the extent required by an order of a court of competent jurisdiction or by the order or demand of a regulatory body having jurisdiction over one or both parties and (y) any of such confidential information that is the sole property of the party making the disclosure and does not include any information owned by the other party. The Distributor acknowledges and agrees the except as provided by Section 1.2 of this Agreement, this Agreement will not be construed as granting by implication, estopped or otherwise any license or other right of use with respect to any present or future patent, copyright, trademark, trade name or other proprietary right owned by or licensed to the Company or any of its affiliates. As a condition to obtaining such consent, the Assignee of Distributor's interest hereunder shall first agree in writing in form and substance satisfactory to the Company, that is shall assume and be liable for the performance of all obligations imposed by this Agreement on Distributor, whether such obligations have then accrued are owing, or are yet to be performed, and shall demonstrate that it has the economic, and with approval of the assignment, the legal capability to perform all of the obligations of Distributor hereunder. The terms pursuant to which such other Products or devices shall be sold by Company to Distributor shall be determined by a separate agreement, but such agreement shall be essentially on the same terms and conditions as herein provided, understanding that such terms as price, quotas, and length of the term of the agreement shall be reasonably adjusted to reflect the nature of the other Product or device which is the subject of the agreement.

Abstractive Summary

Electric City Corp., a Delaware corporation ("Company") and Electric City of Illinois LLC ("Distributor") this 7th day of September, 1999. The Company is presently engaged in the business of selling an energy efficiency device, which is referred to as an "Energy Saver" The Distributor desires to become a distributor for the Company. The Company grants the Distributor the right to do business and use the name "Electric City of Illinois" or a similar variation thereof. The term of this Agreement shall be ten (10) years. The parties acknowledge that the terms herein consist of these terms for Illinois. The Distributor, at its own expense, shall promote the distribution, sales, and use of Products in the Market. The Distributor must use all commercially reasonable efforts to purchase for sale to subdistributors the following minimum quantities of the Products from the Company: $250,000.00 purchase order must be received by Company by the first of each month for a total (12) month period. Sales in excess of the expected sales which are actually made in a Product Year may be applied to meet the expectations for the next Product Year. If the Distributor shall fail to purchase the minimum number of units in any year, the Distributor's exclusive rights to sell and distribute the Product in the Market, may at Company's sole option, be reevaluated. Neither party is granted any express or implied right of authority by the other party to assume or to create any obligation or responsibility on behalf of or in the name of the other parties. The Company and the Distributor shall jointly determine shipment dates. All orders shall be subject to acceptance and confirmation by the Company. The Distributor agrees that the Company shall not be liable for its failure to perform due to any occurrence beyond the Company's reasonable control. All deliveries made pursuant to this Agreement shall be FOB the Company's facilities located within the continental United States by a carrier authorized by the Distributor. The Company reserves the right to increase or decrease the price per unit based on Company wide changes in unit prices. The distributor is not obligated to set retail prices within the Company's suggested range of retail prices. The Company shall cooperate with the Distributor in obtaining all necessary permits and approvals to permit the use of the Products. The Distributor shall pay Company within thirty (30) days of Distributor's or the end-user's receipt of Products. Company shall make reasonable efforts to maintain quality control and to deliver Products to Distributor. Company further warrants that the Products sold hereunder shall be free from defects in design, materials and workmanship for a period of twenty-four (24) months after delivery. Company shall not be liable for defective Products, except as provided in this Agreement. Company shall bear the reasonable expense of all labor, materials and shipping expended or used in connection with the correction of any defects in the Products.

Company shall be entitled to dispute whether a Product is defective. The Distributor shall submit written reports to the Company each quarter during the first year of the Term, commencing ninety (90) days after execution of this Agreement. Confidential information shall not include information which: Is or becomes generally available to the party who desires to disclose such information. The termination of this Agreement shall not relieve either party hereto from obligations. The Company may repurchase any Products in the possession of the Distributor at the net invoice price paid. Repurchased Products shall be shipped at the Company's expense. Company and Distributor agree to indemnify, defend and hold each other harmless from any and all suits, claims, obligations, liabilities, damages, losses and the like. Company will make available to Distributor comprehensive technical support for the first Product Year. Company agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless Distributor from and against all suits, claims, obligations, liabilities, damages, losses and the like (including attorneys' fees and costs) arising out of or related to Company's manufacture or design of the Products. The Distributor agrees that it will not directly or indirectly solicit or hire any executive, managerial or technical employee of the Company or any of its affiliates. The Distributor acknowledges that the securities laws prohibit any person who has material, non-public information concerning the Company from purchasing or selling securities. The Company may assign its interest in this agreement to any person or entity which has authority to fulfill Company's obligations hereunder. Failure of either party to enforce any of the provisions of this Agreement or any rights with respect thereto shall in no way be a waiver of such provisions, rights or elections. If any terms, provision, covenant, or condition of this. Agreement is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void, or unenforceable, the remainder of the. provisions shall remain in full force and effect. Company will provide Distributor with five (5) sample units (the "Sample" or "Samples") for use by Distributor in promoting sales. Distributor shall use the Samples for purposes of permitting potential customers to use the Products in the field. Company to Distributor shall be determined by a separate agreement, but such agreement shall be essentially on the same terms and conditions as herein provided. Such terms as price, quotas, and length of the term of the agreement may be reasonably adjusted to reflect the nature of the other Product.

Contract 2

Extractive Summary

Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Google grants to Distributor a [] license during the Term to: (a) bundle the Distribution Products, in machine-readable binary code format only, solely with Distributor App(s); (b) distribute Bundles directly (or indirectly, subject to Clause 2.2 (Third Party Distribution)) to End Users in the Territory; (c) when indicated by the applicable Criteria Checker and requested by the End User in accordance with clause 3.2 (Form of Distribution Offering), install the Chrome Browser or the Google Toolbar (as applicable) on the End User's system using the Google Installers; and (d) reproduce (or have reproduced by Third Party Distributors as defined in Clause 2.2 (Third Party Distribution)), the Distribution Products to the extent necessary to exercise the rights granted in (a), (b) and (c). 8.4 Google will not be liable for breach of any of the warranties or other terms in this Agreement to the extent that the breach arises from: (a) use of the Products other than in accordance with normal operating procedures; (b) any alterations or maintenance to the Products done by anyone other than Google or someone authorised by Google; (c) any problem with a computer on which the Products are installed, or with any equipment connected to that computer or any other software which is installed on that computer; (d) any abnormal or incorrect operating conditions; or (e) use of the Products in combination with any other hardware or software, unless this use has been approved by Google in writing. 10.2 Google will not have any obligations or liability under this Clause 10 in relation to any IP Claim arising from: (a) use of the Products or Google Trademarks in a modified form or in combination with materials not furnished by Google; (b) use of the Products or Google Trademarks other than in accordance with this Agreement; or (c) any content, information or data provided to Google by Distributor, End Users or any other third parties; 10.3 Google may (at its sole discretion) suspend Distributors distribution or use of the Products or the Google Trademarks which are alleged, or believed by Google, to infringe any third party's Intellectual Property Rights, or modify such items to make them non-infringing. 10.4 Distributor [] and will indemnify Google against all liabilities, costs, damages and expenses (including settlement costs approved in writing by Distributor and reasonable legal fees [*]) suffered or incurred by Google or any Google Group Company arising from: (a) Distributor's improper (ie not in accordance with the requirements of this Agreement including the Exhibits) or unauthorised, replication, packaging, marketing, distribution, or installation of the Products, including any breach of Clause 8.5 and any claims based on representations, warranties, or misrepresentations made by Distributor, (b) any claim from a third party that the Distributor App(s) infringe any third party copyright, trademark, or trade secret, or (c) any End - 12 - *Confidential treatment requested Google Confidential 10.5 The indemnification obligations set out in Clause 10.4(b) shall exist only if Google: (a) promptly notifies Distributor of such claim, (b) provides Distributor with reasonable information, assistance and cooperation in responding to and, where applicable, defending the lawsuit or proceeding, and (c) gives Distributor full control and sole authority over the defense and settlement of such claim. Point user to privacy policy Google Confidential - 33 - Google Confidential - 34 - Branding & Attribution The visible elements of the application should be easily identifiable to the end user Google Confidential - 35 - Implementation, Transparency and Deactivation The Application must permit end users to uninstall it in the customary place the applicable operating system has designated for adding or removing programs (e.g., Add/Remove Programs control panel in Windows) in a straightforward manner Google Confidential - 36 - Google Confidential - 37 - Implementation, Transparency and Deactivation The Application must contain (in an easily found location) clear and concise instructions on how it may be uninstalled Google Confidential - 38 - Bundling of Applications When bundling, the end user must be made aware of all the applications included prior to installation.

Abstractive Summary

"Chrome Browser" means the machine-readable binary code version of the Google Chrome browser provided to Distributor in connection with this Agreement. "Chrome Server Communication" means a communication that, as determined solely by Google, is sent for the purpose of indicating that an End User: (a) is [] to the []; and (b) has kept the [] open for a minimum of [] during a [] (whether during the.] or a*.] of the Chrome Browser. "Criteria Checker" is a set of software routines (and any updates "Distribution Products" means: "End User" means an end user customer of Distributor who is located in the Territory. "Google Toolbar" means the machine-readable binary code version of the Google toolbar for Internet Explorer provided to Distributor in connection with this Agreement. "False" means a "false" response (or equivalent negative response) given by the Criteria Checker. "Intellectual Property Rights" means all copyright, moral rights, patent rights, trade marks, design right, rights in or relating to databases. "IPO" means an initial public offering of all or any of the shares in Distributor or securities representing those shares for the purposes of being publically traded or quoted on an investment exchange. "[]" means a [] received by a party that, as determined solely by Google, meets the requirements set out in Clause 3.9. "Term" means the earlier of: (a) the end of the two year period from the Effective Date to 31 July 2013; or (b) the last day of the calendar month within which the Maximum Distribution Commitment is reached. "Territory" means those countries listed in Exhibit A, excluding any territory or state prohibited under Clause 11.5. "True" means a "true" response (or equivalent positive response) given by the Criteria Checker. Distributor may distribute Bundles to third parties solely for redistribution of such Bundles by those third parties directly to End Users. Distributor shall ensure that no Third Party Distributor bundles anything in or with Bundles without Google's prior written approval. Google grants to Distributor a limited, [] license to use the Google Trademarks. Under the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Google grants to Distributor a limited, [] license during the Term to use the Google Trademarks. Google may request that Distributor distribute the latest version of the Distribution Products. Distributor shall comply, and shall ensure that each Third Party Distributor complies, with the Guidelines for Applications set out in Exhibit C.

3.4 Launch. Distributor shall begin distribution of Bundles in accordance with this Agreement ("Launch") within [*] days following the Effective Date (the date of such Launch, the "Launch Date")

3.5 Exclusivity. Distributor will provide Google with a report identifying, on a country-by-country basis, the total number of: (i) Bundles distributed; (ii) Installs Completed; (iii) Google Toolbar offers presented to End Users; and (iv) Chrome Browser offers. Google may audit Distributor's relevant records to confirm Distributor's compliance with this Agreement. Google may audit Distributor's relevant records to confirm compliance with this Agreement. Google's auditor will only have access to those books and records of Distributor which are reasonably necessary to confirm such compliance. All payments under this Agreement are exclusive of taxes imposed by any governmental entity. Google shall promptly provide to Distributor a copy of an official tax receipt or other appropriate evidence of any taxes imposed on payments made under the Agreement. Google may terminate this Agreement immediately upon written notice to Distributor if: (a) Distributor breaches Clause 2 (License Grants and Restrictions), Clause 3.6 (EULA), or Clause 6 (Confidential Information), or (b) if Google believes, in good faith, that the Distributor has violated or caused Google to violate any Anti-Bribery Laws (as defined in Clause 8.5) Google may require the suspension of all distributions of Bundles in such country or territory until such time as such law, restriction or regulation is repealed, nullified or modified such that it is no longer illegal or a Substantial Burden (in the case of Google), as applicable. If a period of Special Suspension extends for more than [] may then terminate this Agreement (in part) in respect of the affected country or territories. Clauses 5.6 (Effect of Termination), 6 (Confidential Information), 7 (Proprietary Rights), 9 (Limitation of Liability), 10 (Indemnification) and 11 (General) shall survive the termination or expiration of this Agreement. Distributor has, and shall acquire, no rights in the foregoing except those expressly granted by this Agreement. Google shall not be restricted from selling, licensing, modifying, or otherwise distributing the Products and/or the Google Trademarks to any third party. Google warrants that the Distribution Products will be free from any defect which has a materially adverse effect on their use or operation. Distributor will comply with all applicable commercial and public anti-bribery laws. No conditions, warranties or other terms apply to the Products, [] or to any other goods or services supplied under this Agreement unless expressly set out in this Agreement. Neither party shall be liable under this Agreement (whether in contract, tort or otherwise) for any: (a) loss of anticipated savings; (b) loss. of business opportunity (which for the avoidance of doubt shall not include loss of advertising. revenue); (c) loss or damage resulting from third party claims; or (e) indirect or consequential losses; suffered or incurred by the other party. Google will indemnify Distributor against all liabilities, costs, damages and expenses. Google will not have any obligations or liability under this Clause 10 in relation to any IP Claim arising from: (a) use of the Products or Google Trademarks in a modified form or in combination with materials not furnished by Google; or (c) any content, information or data provided to Google by Distributor, End Users or other third parties.

10.5 The indemnification obligations set out in Clause 10.4(b) shall exist only if Google: (a) promptly notifies Distributor of such claim, (b) provides Distributor with reasonable information, assistance and cooperation in responding to and defending the lawsuit or proceeding, and (c) gives Distributor full control and sole authority over the defense and settlement of such claims. Google may join in defense with counsel of its choice at its own expense. Distributor shall comply with all applicable export and re-export control laws and regulations. Unless Distributor obtains prior authorisation required by applicable Export Laws, Distributor shall not export any Product to Cuba, Iran, North Korea, Sudan or Syria. In entering into this Agreement neither party has relied on any statement, representation or warranty not expressly set out in this Agreement. relating to the same.

DISTRIBUTOR GOOGLE INC / [] /s/ [] By Chrome Browser shall auto-launch immediately prior to the launch of the Distributor App. Chrome Browser shall contain exactly two (2) tabs, with the first tab set to google.com, and the second tab set to <http://tools.google.com/chrome/intl/en-US/welcome.html> (or such other URL as Google may specify) No advertisements, offers, or other communications shall appear between launch of a Distributor app and launch of Chrome Browser. Google has observed a significant increase in the number of reports of software engaging in deceptive, malicious and other annoying practices. Google does not wish to be associated with these types of practices. In no event shall the tabs in the Chrome Browser or the Omnibox be hidden behind a Distributor App. Google has established the following Guidelines to apply to customer Applications that are bundled with any Google Application. Google does not grant permission to bundle any Application with a Google Application unless you ensure that any such Application specified in the agreement between you and Google that incorporated these Guidelines complies with these Guidelines. You may bundle Google Applications with Applications only to the extent permitted in the signed written agreement into which these Guidelines have been incorporated. To obtain Google's approval for any Applications not expressly approved in your agreement, you must submit a written request. Your Application, and any related collateral material, must not contain any Google branding, trademarks or attribution. You may not bundle any Google Application with any Application that collects or transmits to any entity other than the end user personally identifiable information. You may not interfere with an end user's Web navigation or browsing or the use of his or her computer. You and any third party distributing or bundling your Application: 4.2 Disclosure and Consent for Collection and Transmission of Personally Identifiable information. 4.3 Disclosure and Consent for Setting Changes. You may not bundle any Google Application with any Application that makes a change to any operating system or Application data setting which will impact the user experience of other Applications. You must first, fully, accurately, clearly and conspicuously disclose to end users: (i) that they are installing an application. Your privacy policy must be accessible from your Application in an easily found location. Neither you nor any of your third party distribution or bundling partners may mislead end users or create end user confusion with regard to the source or owner of an Application. You may not bundle any Google Application with any Application that impairs an end user's ability to change any preferences or settings set by the Application. Once disabled, your Application may not be re-enabled without an affirmative action by the end user to explicitly re- enable your application. You must maintain ownership and control of your Application at all times to the extent required to practically and legally enforce the requirements of these guidelines. If you are seeking to permit a third party Application to be bundled with a Google Application, then you must also obtain Google's written approval. You must provide such assistance as Google may reasonably request. 10.2 Extended Compliance Period. If, solely as a result of an updated requirement, one or more of your Applications no longer complies with these Guidelines, as updated, and you are incapable of bringing such Application into compliance prior to the scheduled effective date of such update (the "Update Effective Date"), you agree to provide Google with written notice thereof. The application may not impact the display of other applications unless you provide clear disclosure in each instance. The Application must permit end users to uninstall it in the customary place the applicable operating system has designated.

Contract 3

Extractive Summary

SHIPPING ADVICE: The seller shall within 72 hours after the shipment of the goods, advise the shipping department of buyer by fax or E-mail of Contract No., goods name, quantity, value, number of packages, gross weight, measurements and the estimated arrival time of the goods at the destination. CLAIMS: Within 7 days after the arrival of the goods at destination, should the quality, specification, or quantity be found not in conformity with the stipulations of the Contract except those claims for which the insurance company or the owners of the vessel are liable, the Buyers, on the strength of the Inspection Certificate issued by the China Commodity Inspection Bureau, have the right to claim for replacement with new goods, or for compensation, and all the expenses (such as inspection charges, freight for returning the goods and for sending the replacement, insurance premium, storage and loading and unloading charges etc.) The Sellers, in accordance with the Buyers' claim, shall be responsible for the immediate elimination of the defect(s), complete or partial replacement of the commodity or shall devalue the commodity according to the state of defect(s). The Sellers shall advise the Buyers immediately of the occurrence mentioned above and within fourteen days thereafter, the Sellers shall send by airmail to the Buyers a certificate of the accident issued by the competent government authorities, Chamber of Commerce or registered notary public of the place where the accident occurs as evidence thereof. LATE DELIVERY AND PENALTY: Should the Sellers fail to make delivery on time as stipulated in the Contract, with exception of Force Majeure causes specified in Clause 17 of this Contract, the Buyers shall agree to postpone the delivery on condition that the Sellers agree to pay a penalty which shall be deducted by the paying bank from the payment.

Abstractive Summary

The buyer entrusts the seller to purchase the products specified in this agreement. The seller shall be confirmed within three working days after receipt of order. If the seller finds order is not acceptable or need to modify, should note entrusted party in two working days. Packed in new strong wooden case(s) /carton(s), suitable for long distance transportation and for the change of climate. Well protected against rough handling, moisture, rain, corrosion, shocks, rust, and freezing. Seller liable for any damage and loss of the commodity. The Buyer's agent agrees to pay for the goods in accordance with the actual amount of the goods shipped. 80% of the system value being shipped will be paid against the documents stipulated in Clause 12.1. The Letter of Credit shall be valid until 90 days after the latest shipment is effected. The seller must advise the shipping department of buyer by fax or E-mail of goods name, quantity, value, number of packages, gross weight, measurements and the estimated arrival time of the goods at the destination. The Sellers guarantee that the commodity hereof is complies in all respects with the quality and specification stipulated in this Contract. Sellers shall send by airmail to the Buyers a certificate of the accident issued by the competent government authorities, Chamber of Commerce or registered notary public of the place where the accident occurs as evidence thereof. The penalty, however, shall not exceed 5% of the total value of the goods involved in the late delivery. The rate of penalty is charged at 0.5% for every seven days, odd days less than seven days should be counted as seven days. The Contract is made out in three originals in both Chinese and English. Conflicts between these two languages arising there from, if any, shall be subject to Chinese version. One copy for the Sellers, two copies for the Buyers.

Contract 4

Extractive Summary

The term "Hosted Site" shall mean the Web site of the Customer that is hosted by i-on under the terms and conditions of this Agreement. Under this Agreement, i-on will provide the following limited services for the Hosted Site: 1. connectivity to the Internet via a T1 (that may be shared by other Web sites) to a leading Internet backbone access provider such as UUNET, and reasonable efforts to maintain such connectivity with the phone company and the Internet backbone access provider; 2. use of the Hosting Computer (that may be shared by other Web sites) as described in this Agreement and maintenance required to keep such Hosting Computer in good working order; 3. physical space for the Hosting Computer at a facility that maintains proper environmental conditions in the area(s) where the Hosting Computer is located and maintains reasonable efforts to prevent unauthorized access to the physical location of the Hosting Computer; 4. an emergency electrical power backup system for the Hosting Computer; 5. up to 150 MB of mirrored computer storage on the Hosting Computer; 6. archival backups of such mirrored computer storage on a weekly basis; 7. off-site storage of such backups at separate facility than the location of the Hosting Computer; 8. use of the Microsoft Windows NT Server 4.0 or higher operating system software for the Hosting Computer and the Hosted Site; 9. use of the Microsoft Internet Information Service (IIS) 3.0 or higher Web server software for the Hosted Site (providing support for the HTTP Web protocol); 10. use of the Microsoft SQL Server 6.5 or higher database server software for the Hosted Site, within the boundaries of allocated computer storage, per #5 above; 11. access to the Hosted Site via the ftp protocol to an administrative account designated by the Customer for the Customer to maintain the Hosted Site's static content (such as HTML Web pages and computer graphics); 12. up to 10 mailboxes accessible via the POP3 mail protocol that are mapped to the Hosted Site's Internet address; 13. up to 1 hour per month of Web site administration services at no additional charge, limited to: requests for changes to ftp/e-mail users and passwords; requests for e-mail configuration changes; modification of mail aliases; changes to server MIME types; files restored from backup; answering questions about server-side scripts; ftp configuration changes; log file configuration changes; importing or exporting of database records; and consultation on site operation and administration. If the problem of which i-on is notified is not a problem that is the responsibility of i-on according to this Agreement, the time spent by i-on relating to the incident will count towards the Customer's monthly allocation of Web administration services, and any additional time exceeding such allocation will be billed to the Customer at the rate set forth for such services. INDEMNIFICATION The Customer agrees to indemnify and hold harmless i-on, against any lawsuits, claims, damages, or liabilities (or actions or proceedings in respect thereof) to which i-on may become subject related to or arising out of Customer's use of i-on's services, and will reimburse i-on for all legal and other expenses, including attorney's fees, incurred in connection with investigating, defending, or settling any such loss, claim, damage, liability, action, or proceeding whether or not in connection with pending or threatened litigation in which i-on is a party. Neither party is granted any such right or authority to assume or to create any obligation or responsibility, express or implied, on behalf of or in the name of the other party or to bind such other party in any manner.

Abstractive Summary

i-on will maintain the operation of the Hosted Site continuously, twenty-four (24) hours per day, seven (7) days per week, including holidays. The term "Hosted Site" shall mean the Web site of the Customer that is hosted by i-on under the terms and conditions of this Agreement. The Customer is responsible for paying i-on the recurring monthly fee in the amount of $450. The Customer acknowledges that failure to pay such fees in a timely manner will result in the interruption of services for the Hosted Site. i-on is solely responsible for all content on the Hosted Site, including but not limited to, HTML pages, graphics, sounds, animations, video clips, Java applets, client-site scripts such as JavaScript and VBScript features, ActiveX controls, and other files and/or executable components for use or download by the users. The Customer acknowledges that this Agreement is explicitly not an agreement for i-on to provide content creation or maintenance services. i-on reserves the right to deny the Customer permission to install any such programs, scripts, or components. The Customer shall use i-on's resources in a manner that is clearly consistent with the purposes of the products and services offered. The customer is responsible to use the resources with sensitivity to the rights of others. i-on will not be liable under any circumstances for any lost profits or other consequential damages. i-on's liability for damages to the Customer for any cause whatsoever, regardless of the form of action, and whether in contract or in tort, including negligence, shall be limited to one (1) month's fees and the remaining portion of any prepaid fees. The Customer agrees to indemnify and hold harmless i-On, against any lawsuits, claims, damages, or liabilities (or actions or proceedings in respect thereof) to which i- on may become subject. i-on will reimburse i-on for all legal and other expenses, including attorney's fees, incurred in connection with investigating, defending, or settling any such loss, claim, damage, liability, action, or proceeding. The provisions of this Agreement relating to indemnification shall survive termination of the Customer's Hosted Site. Neither party is granted any such right or authority to assume or to create any obligation or responsibility, express or implied. CENTRACK INTERNATIONAL, INC. deemed in default if its performance or obligations hereunder are delayed or become impossible or impractical by reason of any act of God, war, 5 fire, earthquake, labor dispute, sickness, accident, civil commotion, epidemic, act of government or government agency or offices.

Contract 5

Extractive Summary

Exhibit 1 JOINT FILING AGREEMENT The undersigned hereby agree to jointly prepare and file with the applicable regulatory authorities this Schedule 13G or Schedule 13D and any future amendments thereto reporting each of the undersigned's ownership of securities of the issuer named herein, and hereby affirm that such Schedule 13G or Schedule 13D is being filed on behalf of each of the undersigned pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of Rule 13d-1(k) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The undersigned acknowledge that each shall be responsible for the timely filing of such amendments, and for the completeness and accuracy of the information concerning her or it contained therein, but shall not be responsible for the completeness and accuracy of the information concerning the other, except to the extent that she or it knows or has reason to believe that such information is inaccurate. Dated: March 27, 2020. /s/ Shelby J. Butterfield Shelby J. Butterfield BUTTERFIELD FAMILY TRUST By: /s/ Shelby J. Butterfield Shelby J. Butterfield Co-Trustee 1

Abstractive Summary

The undersigned hereby agree to jointly prepare and file with the applicable regulatory authorities this Schedule 13G or Schedule 13D. The undersigned acknowledge that each shall be responsible for the timely filing of such amendments, and for the completeness and accuracy of the information.